Assets for the New Board

Jordan is an experienced member of several healthy boards of directors, offering his expertise in governance, lobbying governments at both provincial and municipal levels, marketing, communications, media networking, and membership relations.

In his role at ICBA, he engages members regularly, anticipating and responding to their concerns. His very recent experience at the grassroots MHA Board of Directors level, welcoming new families into hockey by managing a U7 program, and his work with the Langley Rivermen BCHL team, gives him a unique view into the challenges and opportunities to strengthen BC Hockey's relationship with its members.
